"Their property held them in chains which shackled their courage and choked their faith and hampered their judgement and throttled their souls.

If they had stored up their treasure in heaven, they would not be enslaved as they are to their own property. They are not the masters of their money, but its slaves." If they had stored up their treasure in heaven, they would not be enslaved as they are to their own property. They are not the masters of their money, but its slaves."

Bishop Cyprian, 3rd Century

"He who has no money is poor; He who has nothing but money is even poorer."
